VOS LOGISTICS PUBLISHES FIRST SUSTAINABILITY REPORT

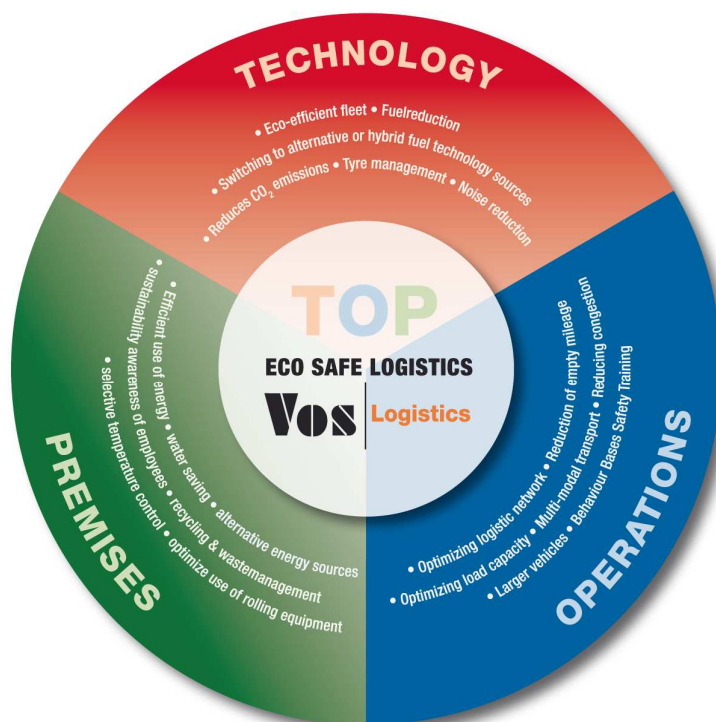

European logistics service provider Vos Logistics today published her first sustainability report, setting out the company's sustainability policy and ambitions for 2010-2015. The company has drawn up an action programme with concrete goals. The most striking goal is a CO₂ reduction per tonne/kilometre of 20% by 2015.

Under the name "Eco-Safe Logistics", the company is seeking a balance between profitability and sustainability. It firmly believes that sustainability works if there is a healthy economic base for the company and its customers. The report also presents a number of actual business cases to illustrate how Vos Logistics implements her sustainability policy in her day-to-day operations.

"Eco-Safe Logistics" underpinning sustainability policy

At the heart of Vos Logistics' sustainability policy is "Eco-Safe Logistics", an approach centred around three themes within the group's direct sphere of influence: technology, operations and premises. The main objectives are to reduce CO₂ emissions and to increase safety and safety awareness. Other priorities include:

- fuel savings and alternative fuels such as LNG;
- optimising the load factor and reducing empty mileage;
- driving style and safety;
- multimodal transport and larger vehicles;
- efficient building energy management and waste reduction.

Frank Verhoeven, CEO of Vos Logistics, explains: 'This report is an important step to embed corporate social responsibility and transparency into our operations. A sharp focus, close cooperation with customers and suppliers and optimal operating processes are preconditions for the best sustainability results.'

The Sustainability Report was prepared in accordance with the widely accepted Global Reporting Initiative guidelines (GRI) and is available at www.voslogistics.com.
